MEET THE ARTIST

Sydney Mvrcus / Waterproof, Louisiana

Jackson State University | B.A. in Art & Graphic Design

Sydney's work has been a staple piece in fashion and hip hop culture. A sense of style runs not only in his veins but on his canvas. It shows in his work as everything he does just so happens to be on-trend. Many millennials gravitate to his work for its vibrant colors, modern appeal, and cool factor. With an open-minded approach to the art world, he reminds us not to take life so seriously but to have fun.

Hailing from Waterproof, Louisiana, Sydney Marcus has an unorthodox exploration of the art elements. At a young age, his mother introduced him to coloring books. Sydney mastered outlining and coloring within the lines. After his mother's passing, her lessons stuck with him inspiring his career, making the lines of precision a branded technique of his work.

As a graduate of Jackson State University with a major in Art and a concentration in Graphic Design, his art style reflects a bold fusion of fine art principles and contemporary visual culture, blending strong composition, expressive color, and graphic storytelling. There are no limits to his creativity, no niche, no box, no particular style to his work. You never know what to expect from him. Art is genuinely expressive, and he wants to be able to create anything that gives him life.

Precision outlines. Expressive color. Southern roots.

BEYOND THE LINES

"Anytime I do art, I create it, I live with it, and then I put meaning to it," states Sydney. The originality and art intelligence of predecessors like Jean-Michel Basquiat, Andy Warhol, and Roy Lichtenstein have also inspired him to create high work levels. With his spirituality to keep him grounded, he connects with his higher power and makes his art wilder. His mental freedom is attributed to his mindfulness and meditation practice and coupled with the power of visualization, which is an essential component of his work. He is always beginning with the ending in mind.

Sydney's works of art fuses hip-hop, country western, fashion, and southern storytelling through vivid pop art. Known for his bold colors, precision outlines, and nostalgic references, he captures the energy of cultural icons and moments with a fresh, unfiltered lens. He brings a sense of fun, freedom, and originality to every piece-reminding the art world that greatness comes from coloring inside the lines, but thinking beyond them.

Sydney is also a multifaceted artist whose creative range extends beyond visual art into music, where he creates and performs country rap songs inspired by his southern roots.

ARTIST STATEMENT

"I consider my work an extension of my personality, bold yet risky, arbitrary, limitless, and unorthodox. Creating art allows me to become free in thought while tapping into my infinite creative, intelligent side. I am a bit random with my art. I can go from creating graphic life-size nostalgic cartoon pop art with bold precise outlines to designing geometric abstract paintings. I believe that the level of success that one can accomplish is limitless and infinite. In conclusion, I always have and will forever live by this motto: Stretch beyond the limitations of your expectations."
